ALL QUIET AT SAN LUIS POTOSI.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Special Matamoras advices from San Luis Potosi to the 14th instant state that all was quiet there. Stage and telegraphic communication was generally re-established within a mile of the Rio Grande. The frontier is occupied by the Government. Trevino's cavalry were at Reynosa. Their slow movements dishearten the revolutionists.

A GARRISON SURPRISED.

General Gurrea, writing on the 19th from the State of Durango, confirmed the report of the temporary occupation of Zacatecas by Cadena. He says that the garrison was surprised and 1,000 men, 2,000 guns, eleven cannon and $60,000 belonging to the Government captured.

AFFAIRS AT SALTILLO.

A telegram from Saltillo confirms the report that no Government force was near Saltillo. It also confirms the defeat of the Puebla garrison by Negrete. A merchant who arrived there from the interior reports that Diaz had been heard from. He was in Jalisco at the head of a strong division. This is doubtful, as Trevino has received nothing official.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

Trevino publishes an address to the people in anticipation of an attack on Matamoras, and says: I came in the name of the law and Constitution to combat the power that is exercising authority illegally. My mission is to destroy the elements collected by the despotic Juarez in your heroic city. He extols their valor and promises protection to the claims and interests of the entire frontier from the revolutionists. He entreats them not to defend a Government which injures the republic in every relation.

In conclusion, he says: From everywhere come new supporters, and each day brings tidings of an important triumph. Manuel Marquez has routed Pesquiera in Sinaloa. Zertuch has beaten Mariscal in Oaxaca. The entire peninsula of Yucatan is in insurrection. Only large cities are occupied by Juarez's force. The Governor and officials have fled to Vera Cruz.

He again calls on the citizens to abandon those who burden the country, and not submit to the caprice of the despot exercising authority illegally.

TREVINO'S FORCES.

Trevino's forces are so much scattered for purposes of subsistence in this barren country, that it is difficult to estimate their numbers. The Revolutionary Bulletin, published at Brownsville, says they number four thousand eight hundred infantry and calvalry, and twelve hundred artillery. Cevallos has two thousand regulars with the National Guard combined behind the fortifications, and his flank rests on the river, and his rear is protected by the American commander preserving neutrality. Reinforcements are expected daily.

THE SITUATION IN CAMARGO.

A courier from Camargo brings advices to the 24th instant. Rocha had been called to the city of Mexico, owing to the rising of the Lerdistas. Quiroga has moved hither with five thousand men. Naravja remains commanding at Camargo.

FIGHTING BEFORE MATAMORAS.

MATAMORAS, April 28.—The revolutionary army, said to be 2,500 strong, with nine piece of artillery, is close on the city and fighting has been going on all day between the advance guards and General Cortina's cavalry. A number of prisoners have been brought in.

Gen. Evallos issued an order to-day allowing merchants' families and non-combatants to leave the city. Since daylight the road to Brownsville has been filled with inhabitants with their furniture and effects seeking shelter on the American side.

The National Guard has been placed on the fortifications, and residents of all nationalities have been enrolled to patrol the streets. The fighting force in the fortifications will amount to 2,000 men, with 500 patrols to keep order within the city proper. Fences and houses outside of the fortifications have been burning all day, and the country for miles around is being cleared, to prevent the enemy from obtaining shelter. The bombardment is expected to commence to-morrow.

ITALY.

THE MOUNT VESUVIUS ERUPTION.

LONDON, April 27.—A Naples correspondent to the Telegraph says he has visited the hotels of that city to ascertain if any of the guests are among the injured by the lava from Vesuvius, and learned that none were missing. The fatalities are confined to the residents of the villages at the side and base of the volcano.

NAPLES, April 27.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius continues with dreadful violence. The lava already reaches Sebastian and threatens other towns. Explosions in the volcano are constantly heard in this city. The consternation among the inhabitants of the villages and towns is increasing. It is reasserted that many tourists have been surrounded by the lava and perished.

King Victor Emanuel has sent aid to the persons who have been compelled to flee from their homes and encamp in the fields.

ROME, April 27.—At the session of the Chamber of Deputies to-day, Seignior Sella, Minister of Finance, read a dispatch from Prime Minister Lauza, who proceeded to Naples last night, rectifying the estimates of the killed given in the dispatch read yesterday. The telegram from Minister Lauza stated that only twelve persons have been thus far killed, and twelve injured by running lava. The villages of San Sabastino and Massa-Dissoma have been almost entirely destroyed, but the inhabitants succeeded in getting away safely. The lava is now advancing towards the villages of Ponticelli, Cercola, Saint George and Portici, which have been abandoned by the inhabitants. The people living in the towns of Torre Del Greco, Resena and Bascateca also fled from their homes, and those places are threatened with destruction. These homeless persons have been provided with temporary shelter. Yesterday the lava advanced at the rate of one kilometre per hour. To-day its pace has slackened. While there has been a number of heavy explosions in the interior of the volcano to-day, there has been no trembling of the earth. The Chamber of Deputies authorized the Government to take necessary measures to provide for the comfort of the people who have been so suddenly deprived of their homes.

THE ERUPTION DIMINISHING.

NAPLES, April 28.—The streams of lava which threatened the villages of Resida and Piorsina have ceased, and the molten mass is now cooling. The eruption is decreasing, but the villagers do not yet dare to return home.

NAPLES, April 28—2 P. M.—The forces of Vesuvius are slackening. A new crater opened near Tersigna to-day, but with every fresh opening the violence of the eruption seems to abate. Yesterday the entire mountain was concealed from sight by smoke settled around it. This morning the heavens were darkened by dense clouds of smoke and ashes, strong winds carried showers of burning cinders and old "scorie" as far as Seafate and Palermo. The precaution was taken to flood the Government powder magazine at Seafate. A stream of lava near Sansebastiano is 16 feet deep, and the village is still in danger.

The King, who arrived at Naples yesterday has gone to Sansebastiano to direct measures for the relief of the inhabitants. The devastation has been terrible. Thousands of acres of cultivated land have been overwhelmed by ashes and lava, and vineyards and farms are burned out of sight. The loss of life must have been heavy, but it is impossible to ascertain the number of victims.

CANADA.

CANADA PACIFIC RAILWAY.

OTTAWA, April 27.—One of the most important bills of the session was introduced in the House of Commons last night by Sir George Cartier. It provides for the construction of the Canada Pacific Railway. According to the terms by which British Columbia came into the union, the road is to be commenced not later than July, 1873, and to be completed within ten years.

THE FENIAN INVASIONS.

The correspondence between the Dominion and Imperial Governments relative to the Fenian claims was laid on the table. The order of the Council is a general history of the Fenian invasions from 1866, and points out in what respects the United States have failed in their duty as a friendly power. The committee further urge that communication should be had with the United States Government, representing the crimes of O'Neil, and other persons connected with him, in such a manner as would insure their being prosecuted to conviction, and the infliction of punishment commensurate with their repeated offenses.

SPAIN.

TELEGRAPH WIRES CUT BY CARLISTS.

MADRID, April 28.—The Carlists have cut the telegraph wires at many points. Few dispatches relative to the insurrection have been received this morning.

RAILWAY STATION ATTACKED.

A band of belligerents attacked the railway station in the town of Solsona, in the province of Lerida, yesterday, but was speedily repulsed.

THE INSURGENTS DEFEATED.

MADRID, April 28.—An attack of insurgents was reported at Sumbier. Many were killed, wounded and taken prisoners by the Government troops.

Catalonia has been declared in a state of siege.

A band of Carlists was defeated last week at Porteacch, with the loss of sixteen killed and thirty-two wounded. The insurgents were dispersed. The number of submissions is increasing.

CONCENTRATION OF CARLISTS.

The Carlists are concentrated in considerable numbers only in Navarre, Guipuzesa and Biscay. Other provinces are quiet. The insurgents hold no important points, and generally keep to the mountains. No engagement of any importance has taken place.

SERRANO SENT TO CATALONIA.

Marshal Serrano has been sent to Catalonia to direct operations He is well acquainted with the country, and will take prompt action for the suppression of the rising before the enemy can concentrate. A telegram annouces his safe arrival in the disturbed district.

DON CARLOS NOT IN SPAIN.

MADRID, April 28.—It is stated here on official authority that Don Carlos has not entered Spain. The Government has information that he was in Geneva yesterday with his brother, Don Alphonso.

FRANCE.

ARREST OF INTERNATIONALISTS.

PARIS, April 27.—A large number of members of the International Society has been arrested at Lyons.

ABOLITION OF PASSPORT SYSTEM.

PARIS April 28.—In the assembly yesterday a motion was introduced by Joubert opposing the abolition of the passport system for travelers to and from England and Belgium. With the sanction of the Chamber, after debate the motion was put to a vote, and rejected by a considerable majority.

GERMANY.

THE LABOR TROUBLES.

BERLIN, April 28.—The labor troubles here continue. The builders and master masons have joined the master carpenters in the lock-out movement. Thousands of working men are thrown out of employment. The discharged journeymen of all trades have united in an appeal to the public for support. They discountenance the use of force or threats to prevent others from working.

Fire-Damp Accidents.

TWO MINE EXPLOSIONS IN ONE DAY.

Three Miners Fatally Burned and Seven Shockingly Burned and Bruised.

Naked Lamps and Ignorant Miners the Cause.

SCRANTON, PA., April 26, 1872.

This city was once more thrown into intense excitement this morning. The news of another fire-damp explosion at the Pine Brook Colliery spread with the rapidity of lightning. This colliery is considered the most dangerous, so far as sulphur is concerned, in the anthracite region, and the frequency of explosions sustains the opinion. This morning Henry Davies, the fire-boss, went his usual rounds, and discovered the red and treacherous substance completely covering the roof of a new chamber lying directly under the Shoplandrow, on Mifflin avenue, in the heart of the city. Davies thoroughly inspected the rest of the mine, his safety-lamp protecting him from explosion, and afterward ascended to notify the miners who were waiting for orders. Those employed in close proximity to the new chamber, were told either to wait until Morgan Bowen, the inside boss, arrived, or go home for the day. It seems that Davies' orders were disobeyed. Five men descended the shaft and proceeded to the new chamber, four carrying safty-lamps, and one a naked lamp lighted and hooked on his cap. This man remained in the gangway, while the rest were "whipping out" the sulphur. Had he extinguished his light, there would have been no accident to record, but the moment that the "whipped out" sulphur from the new chamber came in contact with his naked lamp, a fearful and disastrous explosion ensued. No one was killed outright, but three of the five were so terribly burned that they are hourly expected to die. Thomas O'Harra, Thomas Allen and Larry Karmien, miners, were frightfully burned on the face, back and hands. Henry Strong and Dennis Nelson, laborers, luckily escaped with slight injury.

Mine Inspector P. Blewitt held an investigation according to the requirements of the Ventilation act. Such investigations have never yet amounted to anything more than a legal formality to place the fact on the State records. No verdict is rendered, and suggestions are hardly ever made to remedy defective legislation.

It appears that the men in the Pine Brook shaft were not thoroughly experienced miners. They belong to the class who, toward the end of the suspension last year, went to work despite the intimidation of the miners, and thus broke up the suspension. They were employed then in the Biggs shaft, which, with the Pine Brook shaft, is owned by the Lackawanna Iron and Coal Company, Joseph H. Scranton, President, and were in the party led by William Walker Scranton, son of the President, from the Briggs shaft to their homes under protection of the military when the riot in which two Welsh miners were shot by one Kearns occurred. They were removed to the Pine Brook shaft, as it was not deemed safe for them to remain at the Briggs Mine, and the Company desiring to keep the men who had done so much for them. But the removal has been more fatal than the enmity of the miners could possibly have been, for the Pine Brook shaft is so dangerous that only first-class miners should enter it; and these comparative unskilled men have melted away before fire-damp and other destructive agencies, mainly through their heedlessness and disregard of instructions of mining bosses, until half of them are in their graves or maimed for life.

SCRANTON, April 27.—Another mine explosion occurred between seven and eight o'clock yesterday morning, at the Hampton breaker, by which seven persons were burned and otherwise injured. The Hampton mine is situated in the rear of Hyde Park, and is the property of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company.

Five months ago the company ceased mining coal for the purpose of demolishing the rickety old breaker and erecting a new and more substantial one instead. The building is nearly completed, and men were engaged to-day for the first time in repairing tracks and fixing props inside the mine preparatory to resuming the cutting of coal. There are about one dozen different gangways in this mine, running in all directions. Seven men were detailed to enter the gangway known as "The Dip." No person had entered it since the suspension of work, but no apprehension of the least danger existed among the miners, as there has been but one fire-damp explosion since the mine was first opened. The seven men reached the heading of the gangway with their naked lamps, when the fire-damp exploded instantaneously with a terrific crash. So strong was the concussion, that three gangway doors, half a mile off, were shattered to atoms, and props knocked from their places.

The explosion was heard by men at work in other gangways, who hastened to the aid of their fellow-workmen. They found the entire party prostrated on the ground. John Reed, a road-layer, was found burned from head to foot, with his clothes ablaze. His recovery is impossible. Close by lay Watkin H. Williams, with his skull fractured and a leg broken. He cannot recover. He has been a member of the General Council for several years. Thomas Barrow, the champion debator of the Hyde Park miners, was found lying in the water unconscious, and burned in a frightful manner. He is seventy years of age, and was contemplating retiring from the mines this summer The groans of Wm. L. Jones brought the men to his aid. His face and arms were badly burned; he is not fatally injured. William Morgan was not seriously burned, but received an ugly cut on the side of the head. Michael Clark, a laborer, managed to fall on his face, and escaped with a slight burn. Thos. Gilgallon fared worse, however, and now lies in a precarious condition, with the entire surface of his body burned.

The affair has cast a deep gloom over the many friends of the victims, and hundreds of miners are grouped on Main street, Hyde Park, this evening, expressing their sorrow. Notwithstanding this calamity, work will be immediately resumed.

Pittston has also come in for a share of mining accidents. A fall of top coal injured Simon Jones, John Hinton, Michael Finnerty and Tom O'Malia. The two former were severely and the rest slightly injured.

Alfred Hale's leg was broken in the Bellevue shaft, to-day.

CONGRESS.

Deficiency and Naval Appropriation Bills.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Pensions to Revolutionary Soldiers and Widows.

WASHINGTON, April 27, 1872.

SENATE.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH BILL.

Mr. RAMSEY called up the postal telegraph bill reported by him from the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads some days since, and explained its provisions. It was then laid aside.

RELIEF FOR SETTLERS ON CHEROKEE LANDS.

Mr. POMEROY called up the bill for the relief of settlers on Cherokee lands in Kansas. Passed.

RAILROADS IN DAKOTA.

The bill approving the act of the Legislative Assembly of Dakota Territory authorizing the people to vote aid to railroads was called up, briefly discussed and laid over.

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATION BILL.

At the expiration of the morning hour the unfinished business, the deficiency appropriation bill, came up.

MR. MORTON moved to lay it on the table, for the purpose of taking up the bill amendatory of the enforcement act. Lost

The pending question on the deficiency bill was Mr. Frelinghuysen's motion to reconsider the vote by which Mr. Morrill's amendment restricting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims in suits for the value of captured or abandoned property was rejected.

After considerable discussion, Mr. HILL moved to lay the motion to reconsider on the table, for the purpose of proceeding with other business. Carried—yeas 22, nays 20.

Mr. MORTON then moved to take up the bill to amend the enforcement act.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. COLE opposed the motion, and moved to take up the naval appropriation bill.

The motion of Mr. Morton was lost, and the naval appropriation bill was proceeded with.

Among the amendments reported by the committee and adopted are the following: For surveying in the Pacific, $50,000, providing that no money appropriated by this act shall be expended on account of naval engines contracted for during the war, and for making charts $20,000.

Mr. SAWYER offered an amendment appropriating $3,000 for comparing the tables of planets discovered by American astronomers. Adopted.

The bill having been considered in Committee of the Whole, it was reported to the Senate.

The amendments of the committee providing that the number of hours constituting a day's work at the navy yards shall be the same as shall be usual and customary in private employments in the vicinity of such navy yards was rejected.

POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The bill was laid aside and the Post Office Appropriation bill taken up, and read the second time and unimportant amendments agreed to.

The Senate then, without further action, adjourned.

HOUSE.

THE TARIFF BILL.

On motion, it was ordered that the House meet hereafter at eleven o'clock, and then went into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill.

Mr. WARD then addressed the House, questioning the sincerity of Congress in regard to the passage of any bill to reduce taxation.

Mr. BECK reiterated the statement so frequently made by him that the War Department had received in the last five years one hundred and thirty-eight millions which have not been properly accounted for.

Mr. DAWES sent to the clerk's desk and had read a communication from General Meigs, stating that all money received by the War Department had been paid into the Treasury.

Mr. BECK claimed that Meigs' letter showed that there had been one hundred and five millions spent by the War Department in excess of the appropriations in the last six years.

Mr. WOOD resumed the floor, and proceeded with the argument on the tariff bill. He defended and justified his former vote in favor of free tea and coffee, and presented arguments in support of abolishing the duties on those articles of universal consumption.

Mr. BURCHARD, a member of the majority of the Committee on Ways and Means, followed in the argument in support of the bill.

The tariff discussion was continued by Mr. SLATER.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR PENSIONS.

After the committee rose, Mr. WILLARD, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, reported a bill amendatory of the law pensioning soldiers and widows of the war of 1812, and moved that it be printed and recommitted. He explained that it struck out the limitations as to length of service and as to participation in rebellion. The removal of these limitations, it was estimated, would admit 10,000 persons additional to the benefits of the bill. It also extended the benefits of the law to all widows of soldiers of 1812 who were married prior to January 1st, 1825. This extension would apply to several thousand persons.

Mr. HOLMAN remarked that the bill was manifestly just, and he hoped it would be voted on now. There being no objection, the bill was passed.

Adjourned.

ST. LOUIS.

The Other Side of the Indian Territory Massacre.

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—The Cherokee Advocate, the official organ of the Cherokee Nation, states that the attacking party in the bloody affair at Going Snake Court House, some days ago, was the Marshal's posse; that the Sheriff's guard did not fire until Proctor, the prisoner on trial, had been wounded. The assault was made by one Beck, a Cherokee, who was interested in the prosecution of the prisoner. The Sheriff of the Going Snake District has made a lengthy and circumstantial report of the affair and attaches the entire blame of the massacre to the United States Marshal's party.

ANOTHER COLLISION IMMINENT.

A gentleman just from the terminus of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad, in Indian Territory, says the railroad company moved their terminus from Muskogee to Otskehotsko last Monday, and found the place in possession of white desperadoes under the leadership of a man called Tiger Bill, who refused to leave. General Pope was telegraphed to for assistance, and Lieutenant Quinly, with a detachment of fifteen men, was ordered down from Fort Riley, Kansas. When the informant left, Lieutenant Quinly had arrived and notified the outlaws to leave the territory or suffer the consequences, but they still refused, and a collision between them and the military was imminent.

RAILROADS.

Columbus to Toledo.

TOLEDO, April 27.—M. M. Green, Vice President of the Columbus and Hocking Valley Railroad, has been in this city for a couple of days, conferring with our citizens with reference to the construction of a road from Columbus to Toledo in connection with that road, and this afternoon he delivered an address at a public meeting upon the subject at the Board of Trade rooms. He had just passed by private conveyance over the entire route, and found the people all alive to the enterprise. He regards the success of the movement as highly probable. He says the proposed road would open to Toledo four miles of railroad through solid coal.

A resolution was adopted approving the enterprise, and providing for a committee to co-operate therewith.

The President and Directors of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and Northern Railroad are in the city for the purpose of perfecting arrangement for depot accommodations for that road, now under construction.

CINCINNATI TO DAYTON.

CINCINNATI, April 27.—The Short Line Railroad between here and Dayton is now laid except thirteen miles of the track. The remainder will be down by the middle of May, so that cars can run, and the road will be ready for formal opening some time in June.

LOUISVILLE.

Opening of the Kentucky Library—Damages Recovered.

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 27.—The formal opening of the Public Library of Kentucky took place to-night in Concert Hall, in Weising's building, the property recently purchased by the Library Association. An immense assemblage crowded the hall and galleries. Ben. Cassidy recited an original poem, written for the occasion. Hon. J. Proctor Scott delivered an eloquent oration, after which the library rooms were visited by thousands. The shelves contain 20,000 volumes, and a large and valuable cabinet of geological specimens, besides the periodicals and papers of the day. The building is one of the largest and handsomest in the city. The success of the effort to establish an extensive free library is the subject of general congratulation throughout the city.

DAMAGES RECOVERED.

The suit against the Short Line road for damages from the death of the engineer of an extra train, caused by running into a regular train, which had been delayed on the road by accident, resulted in a verdict of $8,000 against the company, on the ground that the employes of the regular train failed to give proper notice to the officers of the extra train of the delay of the former.

SYRACUSE.

Serious Affray.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 28.—This morning two Germans went from this city into the town of Salina to hunt, when they were discovered by a game constable and two men, who attempted to arrest them for violation of the game laws. A scuffle ensued, and one of the arresting party was shot, probably fatally, and the constable terribly beaten and bruised. The third man ran away. The Germans have been arrested. Considerable excitement prevails in this vicinity.

—Official reports at the Agricultural Department at Washington are unfavorable for the growing crops.

ALL CHAOS.

Notes and Gossip.

[Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, April 28, 1872.

The all-absorbing talk to-day has been the forthcoming convention, that, like a great circus, is to stretch its canvas in this city and crystalize into a solid the floating particles that have proved non-adhesive to the old Republican party and its principles. What the platform will be is the query of the hour. Free trade and protection are the rocks of danger against which the delegates are fearful of running. So far all is conjecture, and even the advance delegates do not know exactly what is to be done. In conversation to-day with them it was found that they were like sheep out of the flock and only awaited the assembling of the convention for the development of their ideas as to what the Liberal party really meant and what it actually intends to accomplish. That it will be a well attended and measurably representative body of politicians of considerable note and influence there can be little doubt. Already the hotel registers are graced with many names of men who in the past have worked well in the Republican harness, and this is but a start. The Liberal party movement has been bunglingly carried on from the outset, without order or any attempt at system. As a result some States and Territories will be too largely represented, while others will scarcely have a man on the floor. Most of the delegates are self-constituted, and come unarmed with credentials. This looseness will cause much trouble in the work of effecting an organization. Some think that the whole affair, under such circumstances, will end in a row, but to-night those who have voluntarily assumed the management are laboriously working to harmonize matters, and adopt such measures as may prove satisfactory to all. It is proposed that the mass of representatives from each State shall hold advance caucus meetings prior to the assembling of the convention, and designate who shall speak out for their State and district "in meeting." This may bring order out of chaos.

There is much anxiety among the delegates as to who will be honored with the nomination. Horace Greeley's outside strength is "very thin," and, save on the first ballot, his name will not be heard of in the Convention. Charles Francis Adams is strong, but none will wager heavily on his nomination, as the spirit of demagoguery which pervaded his late letter has seriously damaged his prospects. It is hinted that he is entirely apart in sympathy with the Liberalists, and that should he get the nomination, would only consider long enough to damage the movement, and then declare in favor of Grant. Governor Palmer has little chance for any place on the ticket, but Illinois will divide her strength on him. Trumbull is regarded as the choice for Vice President. Governor Curtin was telegraphed to to-day to know if he would accept the nomination for the second place. No answer has yet been received. It is Pennsylvania men who are working to get him in the field, so as to use him as a compromise candidate in case of an emergency.

The Convention will be held in the great Industrial Exposition Building, which is said to afford accommodations for nearly seven thousand people—perhaps more Liberals than there are in the country.

Delegates are pouring in this evening and already hotel accommodations are getting scarce. It is noticeable that most of the visitors are Germans. But few dignitaries are yet here. Augustus Belmont is already in the field, and it is said has made a proposition to the Liberal managers looking toward the cementing of this offshoot from the Republican tree to the Democratic trunk. The terms of this proposition are studiously kept quiet, and rumor says that he is acting under the advice of Horace Greeley, who will not come here.

Carl Schurz is here. He was cordially received by a band of admirers, but has kept close quarters at the residence of Hon C. B. Stalto at Clifton. Gen J. D. Cox will not preside. It is thought his sympathies are against the movement, at least until he can see how the thing works. Warmouth heads the Louisiana delegation. No prominent Pennsylvanians are here.

The names of Chase and Davis are hardly mentioned in connection with the nomination. The Labor Reform party is entirely overlooked in the programme as it is now developed. Gratz Brown has many men pulling his wires, but is deemed rather weak.

MISSOURI.

The Cass County Affair—Citizens Ordered to Leave Harrisonville—Militia Ordered to Holden.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—Gov. Brown has ordered the Kansas City militia companies to Holden, Mo., to protect the citizens of that place against apprehended violence by the Cass county vigilance committee. Several bond-men of parties implicated in the Cass county bond matter reside in Holden, and fears are entertained that the threats of the regulators to kill everybody concerned in that affair will be carried out. Adjutant Selgel left last night for Cass county to investigate affairs. It is stated that Gov. Brown is determined to prevent any further unlawful proceedings by mobs. Two companies of militia are understood to be under verbal orders to hold themselves ready to march at a moment's notice.

HOLDEN, MO., April 28—The reign of terror in Cass county, instead of abating, is on the increase, and the civil authorities are perfectly powerless to enforce the laws, and the lives and property of the people are at the mercy of a mob. Twelve men, old and respectable citizens of Harrisonville, who were the bondsmen of Cline, together with the minister who performed the last rites at his funeral, were ordered to leave to-day within twenty-four hours, or to be shot. They accordingly left, and are now exiles from their homes. The mob is furious, and have sworn to slay all the principals in the bond matter, the bondsmen, and all who sympathize with them and attempt to defend them. Nothing but the strong arm of the law will preserve the peace and bring the murderers to justice. A company of militia arrived here this evening from Kansas City, commanded by Capt. Philan. Our citizens feel somewhat relieved, and hope Gov. Brown will feel that one company is a small force to contend against an organization of one or two thousand desperadoes.

COLUMBUS.

Seal Commissioner of Railroads and Telegraphs—Legislative Proceedings.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—Orlow L. Wollott, of Trumbull county, was yesterday appointed and confirmed a Seal Commissioner of Railroads and Telegraphs.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

Two attempts were made yesterday in the Legislature to pass the bills amendatory to the Adair Liquor Law, but were unsuccessful.

The bill to apportion the State into Congressional districts became a law yesterday.

The House bill enabling railroads to erect branches connecting with their main line to any point in a county through which such lines may pass without a new charter was passed. The House bill providing that the standard weight of a bushel of stone coal shall be eighty pounds avoirdupois for bituminous, and seventy pounds avoirdupois for cannel coal, and shall contain eighty-eight cubic inches, was passed.

CALIFORNIA.

Goat Island Cession.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The report of the burning in effigy of Congressman Sargent and others on account of the part they had taken in the Goat Island matter by citizens of the Tenth ward of San Francisco was based on published statements by reporters of the city press, who witnessed the transaction. The San Francisco agent of the Associated Press, not being compelled to grind any body's ax not inventured among the minor assets of any corporation, feels at liberty to continue truthfully reports of the news of the day despite the denunciations of Mr. Sargent.

Stanford, the President of the Central Pacific, publishes a lengthy letter in reply to the resolutions of the committee of one hundred, denying the general terms of the charge that it was the intention of the company to use Goat Island to the prejudice of San Francisco.

A Brush with Indians.

NORTH PLATTE, NEB., April 27.—Captain Meinhold, of the Third Cavalry, is in pursuit of the Indians who drove off the stock of McPherson on the 24th, and succeeded in overtaking twenty of them on the Loupe. Three Indians were killed and a portion of the stock recaptured. A large number of saddles were found in their camp.

The trial of Libby Garrabrant was continued at Paterson yesterday. The evidence is strong against the accused. Prof. Doremus, of this city, testified to having found arsenic in Burrough's stomach.

INDIRECT CLAIMS NOT WITHDRAWN.

The Times' Washington special says the sensational dispatches sent hence recently regarding the action of the Government on the question of indirect claims is utterly without authority and substantially without truth. The position of the Government is unchanged. The claims are not withdrawn, and will not be unless England grants the point involved. The Government never expected any pecuniary damages, but believes it had the right to present the question and have it decided.

THE PRIZE RING.

The longed talked of fight between James Mace and Ned O'Baldwin has at length been definitely settled. A gentleman well known in sporting circles, who desires his name to be withheld for the present, has consented to act as stakeholder, and has been accepted by both parties, and the fight will positively take place in Virginia within sixty days from the signing of the articles. They are to be drawn up to-day and submitted to the inspection of the backers.

AFRICAN METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The African Methodist Conference finally adjourned to-day, after a session of great confusion. Several members got greatly excited, and refused to heed the Bishop's repeated calls to order. The cause of the excitement was a proposal to tax each member one dollar. One James attempted to speak, when Brother Jones told him to sit down, and accused him of being one of the defaulting agents of the last tax. Great uproar ensued, and the Bishop threatened to close the proceedings unless order was restored.

METHODIST BOOK CONCERN.

The Methodist Book Committee spent the day in an attempt to harmonize the majority and minority reports. The former finds the charges of fraud not sustained, and the latter asserts that the gravest allegations appear sustained, and states that the course of Dr. Lanahan was eminently consistent with the best interests of the Book Concern. It is not probable that the Committee will agree on a report to present to the General Conference next week.

Oberhelser & Co., estimate their loss by fire this morning at half a million or more. The stock of Goddard Bros. was damaged to the extent of 25,000. The origin of the fire remains a mystery.

ALABAMA CLAIMS CORRESPONDENCE.

The World has the following correspondence respecting the presentation at Geneva of the British counter case to the arbitrators under the fourth article of the treaty of Washington, on the 8th of May, 1871:

[Earl Granville to Sir Thornton.]—Foreign Office, April 8, 1872.—Sir: General Schenck informed me on the 22d of March, that he had written to Mr. Fish, and told him that he had said to me in confidence that he thought his Government would not object to Her Majesty's Government putting in their counter case before the arbitrators without prejudice to the position which Her Majesty's Government are now maintaining, and that the Government of the United States would accede to such understanding, and he stated his expectation of obtaining from Mr. Fish on the 2d or 3d of April by telegraph his view on that point. On the 5th inst., Schenck wrote to me, stating that he had now received Fish's reply confirming his opinion. Fish said: Schenck informed me that it is the understanding of the United States that the British Government is bound under the treaty to file a counter case, and that their doing so will not prejudice any position they have taken, nor affect any position of the United States, but that the rights of both parties will be the same after filing as before. Gen. Schenck, whom I have seen to-day, on his return from Paris, has verbally confirmed this statement. General Schenck afterwards said he had no objections to my communicating his letter to my colleagues, or, indeed, announcing it to Parliament. [Signed,] GRANVILLE.

[Gen. Schenck to Earl Granville]—April 11 1872.—My dear Lord Granville: I received last night your note enclosing a copy of a paper which you propose to have presented at Geneva at the same time with your counter case. I will hasten to communicate information of it to my Government. Very sincerely, yours, ROBERT C. SCHENCK.

[Earl Granville to General Schenck.]—Foreign Office, April 9, 1872.—My Dear General Schenck: I have submitted to the Cabinet my correspondence with you and the substance of our conversation yesterday, on the question of Her Majesty's Government presenting a counter case to the tribunal at Geneva, on the 15th of this month, without prejudice to the position which they maintain as to the nature and extent of the claims referred to that tribunal I enclose a copy of the note which I propose to have presented at the same time as the counter case. Yours sincerely, &c.

[Signed,] GRANVILLE.

TWO PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH.

Last evening a fire occurred at the building Nos. 24 and 26 Wooster street, occupied principally by Henry Erban, organ builder. The top floor was rented to the Republican Tailors Co-operative. Erbin's workmen quit work at five o'clock, and at the time of the fire breaking out there were eight tailors at work on the top floor. Among them were John and James McCherry and Wm. Fordman. On finding the building on fire, the workmen rushed for the roof, by which several escaped. The flames quickly reached the fourth floor, and finding the means of escape cut off, Wm. Fordman leaped from the rear window into the yard beneath. Fortunately he alighted on the roof of a shed and miraculously escaped unhurt, although he had fallen a distance of fifty feet. The brothers McCherry endeavored to reach the window to shout for aid, but the smoke had become so dense that James fell insensible to the floor from suffocation. John McCherry managed to throw up the window sash and call for help. None, of course, could be sent him by persons in the yard beneath. The flames advanced and burned him to a cinder as he leaned out of the window. In this position the charred body remained while the firemen were at work in staying the progress of the flames. The body of James McCheny was afterwards found lying on the floor of the fourth story, and was lowered out of the window by means of a rope. The bodies were subsequently identified by rings on the fingers. The loss is estimated at $50,000 on Erban's stock, and $10,000 on the tailors' shop above. Erban's stock was insured for $20,000.

A CARD FROM STOKES.

A card from Stokes to the public will be published in the morning pronouncing unqualifiedly false the accusation that he had been in league with Miss Mansfield to extort money from Fisk. He never had any business relations with her, neither was he interested in any suit with her except through Fisk. The accusation that he threatened to publish Fisk's letters to Mansfield is false. The greater portion of those published he had never seen till in public print. The letters were procured and published without his knowledge or connivance. He has never seen Mansfield since her commitment. He denounces the play of "Black friday" as grossly libelous, but its incidents require no denial with those who know him. It is hard for him to refrain from making a statement as to the charge that he is an assassin, but his duty to his counsel compels him to add that when all the facts are known, and it is provable how infamously witnesses perjured themselves at the Coroner's inquest, public opinion will begin to set in his favor.

M. E. GENERAL CONFERENCE.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will commence its sessions at the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Wednesday. The delegates will be 484 in number, representing more than one million and a half of followers of Wesley. At least eight new bishops are to be elected. The Book Concern trouble is to be adjusted, and it is reported that Dr. Lanahan will be tried for alleged scandal.

MEETING OF REFORMERS.

A meeting of prominent gentlemen connected with the new reform movement was held last night, Robert B. Rosevelt presiding. The Chairman stated that the enrollment has proceeded rapidly, and includes Americans, Germans and Irish. Henry Clews was elected Treasurer.

THE SCRANTON EXPLOSION.

Watkin H. Williams and Thomas O'Hara, victims of the recent mine explosion near Scranton, have died. Barrow and Reed are in a precarious condition.

WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE.

Charles O'Connor authorizes the statement that under no circumstances will he assent to be a candidate for Mayor.

OUR LITERARY WHAT-NOT.

WILKIE COLLINS writes that he longs to visit America, but is too much exhausted physically at present.

THE first ingredient in conversing is truth, the next good sense, the third good humor and the fourth wit.

OF ALL the blessings that gladden earthly pilgrimage, sympathy is the sweetest; of all the gifts of God, a friend is the chief.

CHARLES READE says he will come to America on a lecturing tour on the same terms as Dickens on his last visit. He probably will stay at home.

DR. J. G. HOLLAND ("Timothy Titcomb") will hereafter reside in New York city, having purchased a fine mansion on Park avenue, Murray Hill.

SOME one has said very beautifully that harsh words are like hail-stones in summer, which if melted, would fertilize the tender plants which they batter down.

IF you wish success in life, make perseverance your bosom friend, experience your wise counsellor, caution your older brother, and hope your genius.—Addison.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT is in his seventy-eighth year and does not relish solicitous inquiries after his health. He is vigorous enough to consider such tenderness as a doubtful compliment.

THE Pall Mall Gazette, regarded as literary authority by the snobs of England, speaks approvingly of John Hays' "Hans Breitmann" poetry. Let us now hear from the Gazette on the merits of Bryant's Longfellow poems.

MR. ROBERT BROWNING'S two small poems, recently published, though known by his friends to have been but casually thrown in—hardly serious work—have reached possibly a larger class of readers than his peculiar style usually includes.

MR. R. W. EMERSON particularly requests that no reports shall be made of his public conversations. "We should like to know," says a lady, "what sort of a sop that would be which he could throw to the male gossips that would keep them quiet?"

JOHN RUSKIN is feeble; he has as little robustness of physique as can well be conceived, and no kind of excitement is suitable for him. Only the other day he sank into a condition of such exhaustion that for a while it was believed impossible he could recover.

SAXE'S new volume of poems is promised shortly, and is described as a wise and witty, moral and entertaining sheaf of fables, legends, traditions apologies, and fantasies, which trip along the page in that easy, unpuritanic fashion Saxe's lyrics have.

"A PERSON intimately connected with John S. C. Abbott," says the Watchman and Reflector, "assures us, from personal knowledge, that that prolific author never allowed himself to write a paragraph of his 'Life of Napoleon' without first offering prayer that he might be guided aright."

WITH its May issue, Harper's Magazine will begin the publication of Mr. Charles Nordhoff's illustrated papers from California, and Miss Thackeray's new novel, which will be called "Old Kensington;" and in June will be commenced a series of papers on the Republican Movement in Europe, from the pen of Don Emilio Castelar, the eminent Spanish statesman.

Honors to Disraeli.

Mr. Disraeli's reception at Manchester, whither he went a few days since to deliver a speech, was a very remarkable one. Forty thousand people attended it and passed before him in procession. He alluded to it as "an honor unparalleled in the life of any public man." Journals of different politics take different views of his speech, but all take occasion to speak in commendatory terms of the remarkable ability of the man. The Saturday Review says the people "may have naturally wished to show their sympathy with a public man who has never been tame or commonplace, whose audacity is unrivaled, and who can always speak so as to give his hearers a little to think over and much to remember." Mr Disraeli unites two very opposite characteristics, which are very rarely conjoined. He is, on the one hand, a man standing alone, isolated; keeping by sheer force of intellect his hold on a party that long distrusted him; with no backing of fortune or connection to support him; a master of invective, a lover of keen personal debate. On the other hand, he has the sense of dignity which Englishmen like to see in their statesmen. He loves solemnities; he keeps the House of Commons up to its higher level; he can be reserved and reticent when prudence commands, he thoroughly understands the conduct of an opposition. In whatever light the matter is looked at it may be fairly said that Mr. Disraeli has earned the honors now vouchsafed to him; and those who see nothing in his political philosophy to enlighten them, or in his present opinions to serve them as a guide in the future, may cheerfully acknowledge that, if the Lancashire populace chose to be enthusiastic about him, it had at least as good grounds for its enthusiasm as ordinarily justify the excitement of the hour.

THE soldiers of Massachusetts have started a movement for the erection of a memorial tablet over the grave of the late Governor John A. Andrew. A little flag, planted by some tender hand in the grave yard at Hingham, is all that at present marks the burial place of that loyal Governor, who covered the State with a mantle of glory

THE CAPITAL.

May Bond Purchases and Gold Sales.

CONGRESSIONAL BUSINESS.

Report on Ku Klux and Other Outrages.

WASHINGTON, April 28, 1872.

BOND PURCHASES AND GOLD SALES.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Richardson has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to purchase $2,000,000 in bonds each Wednesday, and sell $2,000,000 gold each Thursday during May—in all ten millions of each.

KU KLUX AND OTHER OUTRAGES.

The report of Attorney General Williams, in response to a resolution of the House, gives details of measures for the enforcement of the Ku Klux act in the Carolinas, and says all lawless combinations are broken up in Kentucky by the force of public sentiment and prompt prosecutions. Still he cannot say that there is as much protection for life and property as is to be desired. Crime is fearfully increasing in the Indian country, where every effort is being made to break up illegal traffic in spiritous liquors, which are the chief causes of disorders. Life and property are as secure in Arkansas as in the average of States, as also in the thickly settled portions of Texas; but on the frontier of the latter State the people suffer indescribable woes from robberies and murders. Whole families are murdered; their corpses mutilated in a manner too horrid to mention; houses burned; farms destroyed; cattle driven off; little boys and girls carried into captivity worse than death; the country impoverished, and all settlement and progress prevented. But with an influx of immigration from Europe and the States of the Union, it cannot be long before all lawlessness and violence growing out of political differences, radical antagonism and social distinctions, will be a thing of the past.

CONGRESSIONAL BUSINESS.

Since the commencement of the present session of Congress, the President has approved thirty-three bills which originated in the Senate, and one hundred and twenty in the House. Several bills of a private character were vetoed. Since the commencement of the present Congress one thousand and forty-five bills have been introduced in the Senate and two thousand five hundred and sixty-nine in the House, together with one hundred and forty joint resolutions. The number of bills now awaiting the action of the Senate is three hundred and sixty-nine, and the number of Senate bills awaiting the action of the House one hundred and thirty-two, ninety of which are on the Speaker's table.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Clear and probably cloudy weather will prevail over the New England, Middle and Southern States on Monday, with lighte to fresh winds. A low Barometer will probably move eastward over the north-west, and the pressure will continue diminishing from the Ohio Valley northward and westward, with lasterly to southerly winds, cloudy and threatening weather and very probably rain. Brisk and possibly very brisk winds are probable for the upper lakes to-night or on Monday morning, but otherwise dangerous winds are not anticipated.

LOUISIANA REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

A private dispatch from New Orleans says all the parishes of Louisiana will be represented in the Republican State Convention, to be held on Tuesday, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Philadelphia Convention. It is further stated that the colored voters, with the exception of a few holding office under Warmoth, are enthusiastic for Grant.

REPORT DENIED.

A statement was recently widely published that Col. Casey, Collector of the Port at New Orleans, had drawn $32,000 from the treasury as moiety pertaining to his office. It has been ascertained from official sources that the statement is untrue.

PERSECUTION OF CHRISTIANS IN JAPAN DENIED.

Mails received yesterday by the Japanese embassy to March 26, show that the reports of the persecution of Christians in Japan are untrue, and grew out of the conviction of counterfeiters

Pleasure Traveling in California.

Certainly in no part of the continent is pleasure traveling so exquisite and unalloyed a pleasure as in California. Not only are the sights grand, wonderful, and surprising in the highest degree, but the climate is exhilarating and favorable to an active life; the weather is so certain that you need not lose a single day, and may lay out your whole tour in the State without reference to rainy days, unless it is in the rainy season; the roads are surprisingly good, the country inns are clean, the beds good, the food abundant and almost always well cooked, and the charges moderate; and the journey by rail from New York to San Francisco, which costs no more than the steamer fare to London, and is shorter than a voyage across the Atlantic, is in itself delightful as well as instructive. Probably twenty Americans go to Europe for one who goes to California; yet no American who has not seen the plains, the Rocky Mountains, the Great Salt Lake, and the wonders of California, can honestly say that he has seen his own country, or that he even has an intelligent idea of its greatness.

NOTWITHSTANDING the cheapness of land in that State and its magnificent climate, a great exodus is taking place from the State of Virginia. The emigration is generally to the Western and Southern States and Territories—Oregan, Colorado, California, Nevada, Texas, Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri. Within a few weeks over seventy families removed from one county (Grayson) alone. The press of the Old Dominion styles the emigrants "unfilial Virginians," and urges that means may be taken to encourage foreign immigrants into the State, in order to preserve portions of it from becoming literally desert wastes.

THE Baltimore American is discouraged because "the attentive traveler who has made the rounds of public amusements in American cities other than Baltimore, and then happens at any performances amongst our own people, cannot help but ask himself the question whether anything can be rendered so poorly here that an audience will not applaud it."

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 43½f.

GOLD closed in New York on Saturday at 112⅞.

FENTON and the New York delegation to Cincinnati are promised for Trumbull.

BRIGHAM YOUNG has been released from custody on an order of the Judge of the Mormon Probate Court, against the emphatic protest of the counsel for the United States Marshal. What next?

THE Cincinnati Commercial considers the matter as already settled, and speaks as follows, after stating that Mr. Adams sailed for Europe a day or so ago: "When the good ship Russia stops at Queenstown a week from this day, there will be startling news for one of her passengers."

FRANCE has abandoned the old passport system, which will be acceptable news to those contemplating a tour to that country. Free admittance and departure will be given all foreigners, but the names of travellers will be demanded, and duly inscribed in a book, but no tax or visé will be required.

THE SIGNS of the times daily more fully indicate that both Grant and Colfax will be the leaders of the Republican party in 1872, as they were in 1868. Both have made most acceptable and worthy officers; both merit the re-endorsement of the people, and both will, in all probability, be called upon to preside over the affairs of the nation for four years more.

THE evidence grows stronger with each day that the Cincinnati Convention will declare for free-trade. This is about as good a time as any to settle that question, and we shall not be at all disappointed if it shall turn out to be the only practical issue between the two parties in the coming campaign. Charles Francis Adams is a recognized advocate of a free-trade policy, and all who are engineering the new movement, except Mr. Greeley, incline that way. Is the statement that "the editor of the Tribune will not go to the Convention" not significant?

IT APPEARS to be the opinion in some well informed circles that the letter of Charles F. Adams, has completely blocked his chances for nomination at Cincinnati. Some leading men at Washington pronounce the letter a forgery, and we would wish to learn that it was so, as we can hardly think it possible for Mr. Adams to have written it, unless we have all along been deceived in our estimate of him as a public man. Davis stock continues to rise as the day for the assembling of the Cincinnati Convention approaches. Some appear to think it a foregone conclusion, that if the West demands him it will nominate him.

COAL GAS for illuminating purposes is supplied in London at 76 cents per thousand cubic feet of sixteen candles illuminating power. We pay for a worse quality at the rate of $1.85 per thousand feet. Coal is as plenty here as there, but labor is higher. There is no good reason, however, for the great disparity in the prices, save in the fact that American monopolies are generally more avaricious to make large profits out of invested capital. The new Consolidated Gas Company, if it ever gets into practical operation, promises to make a reduction of nearly sixty per cent. from the tolls exacted from consumers at this time.

BY THE statistics of immig ration for the port of New York in 1871, an increase of 17,469 over the arrivals in 1870 is shown. The total number last year was 228,962, exclusive of cabin passengers. The Germans outnumbered all other classes of immigrants—the proportion being as follows: Germans, 88,601; Irish, 65,506; English, 36,965; leaving less than 38,000 to be divided among all other nationalities. The excess of the German arrivals over the Irish in 1871 was equal to fifty per cent. The indications are that during the present year the immigration from the old "faderland" of Emperor William will be unusually heavy, while the prolonged agricultural strike in England threatens to cause a general flow of emigrants to our shores from that country. Our country is truly filling up with population from all parts of the world, but it is a blessed consolation that we are not perplexed to find room and work for them all.

THE STATEMENT of the reduction of the national debt of England has just been published in reponse to a call from "Historicus" (Vernon Harcourt.) It exhibits the fact that during the last three years the reduction has been £6,000,000, or at the rate of £2,000,000 say $10,000,000 per annum. But it is also stated that this year the government will be obliged to add to its debt fully £3,500,000 for erecting barracks for the troops, and this, with other extraordinary expenses, may counterbalance all the reduction made. Will our Democratic financiers compare this statement, made on the authority of Sir John Lubbock, M. P., with the policy of General Grant's administration, and tell us what they think of it? In this same time, the national debt of this country has been reduced $315,000,000, and this, too, whilst taxation was being lessened. Does any man desire better evidence of the uprightness and competency of those whom we have placed at the head of our affairs?

SEVERAL days ago we unauthoritatively denied the truth of a current paragraph, started doubtless by some irresponsible party, to the effect that Hon. F. B. Penniman, formerly an editor of this journal, had declared his intention of visiting Cincinnati to participate in the mongrel convention of the great dissatisfieds. On Saturday we received a private letter from the gentleman in which he positively denies the assertion, stating that he never had entertained a thought of going to the convention and expressed his hope not to be again drawn into the vortex of political agitation. None who know the settled convictions and honesty of Mr. Penniman ever gave credit to the thought that he would prove false at this late hour to the principles he has held all through a long political life, and we think the ill-mannered allusion recently made to him in the Mail, taking his departure for Cincinati as an assured fact, was wholly uncalled for and as ungenerous as rash and contemptible. When the editor of the Mail shall have made as good a record in the Republican party and done as much good service in the advancement of its principles, as Mr. Penniman he too might feel aggrieved over such an unwarrantable allusion.

IF ANY further proof were needed of the desperate strait of the "old line Democracy," the following from the World will furnish it. "Anything to beat Grant" is its sole rallying cry, and we are sorry to find any pure man lending himself to the work. The World says:

"If the Cincinnati Convention should prove wise enough, and high-toned enough, to nominate Charles Francis Adams as its candidate for President, the Demoaratic party will endorse that eminent statesman with spontaneous hearty plaudits and universal acclamation. In that case it will be of little consequence whether a Democratic National Convention is held or not. A convention would merely ratify the foregone conclusion of the Democratic masses. If Mr. Adams is nominated, the Democratic party will support him, work for him, and give him their freest sympathies, without waiting for a formal indorsement by their assembled delegates. In that case, the Democratic National Convention would be merely a registering body to make a formal record of a foregone conclusion."

In other words, the "possum policy" will be adopted, according to the World, if any candidate shall be named at Cincinnati, who is thought strong enough to defeat the Republican nominee. What care these men for principles?

THE Republican party is sometimes charged with being unfair in its dealings with political matters, and with going greater lengths than strict justice would approve, in covering up iniquity charged against the party. Although the charge has been repeated many times, and as frequently disproved, yet we are again permitted to refer to a recent case directly in point, which proves that the party can rise above sordid motives, and act justly and fairly with an opponent. In the matter of the North Carolina Senatorship, General Abbott was the Republican contestant, and General Ransom was his Democratic opponent. The questions between them were about equally balanced, and it required considerable hair splitting to tell which of them had the best of it. After long deliberation and careful examination into the matter, the majority of the Republicans reported against the Republican contestant, and General Ransom was elected without further struggle, and immediately sworn in.

It is a small matter in itself, but it is just such instances that tend to strengthen or weaken a party. "Let justice be done though the heavens fall" ought to be the ruling motto of all parties and all men, and we take this occasion to say that, so far as THE GAZETTE is concerned, we shall always endeavor to act under this motto. Party is nothing when justice is in the scale, and we must learn to rise above it at all times, and not be hemmed in by narrow prejudices.

MOUNT VESUVIUS, the greatest volcano in the world, has once more, only after the lapse of a few years, burst forth in violence and with almost unprecedented fury is hurling its volumes of red hot earth into the air and sweeping the valleys below with liquid fire. The cable informs us that thus far the loss of life has been fearful, especially among tourists, who at the first report of the eruption, were called to Naples to witness the grand sight of the angrily burning mountain. Their excusable curiosity resulted in their being engulphed in the fiery torrents of lava that streamed forth from the crater and the rended mountain sides. Vesuvius is known to all geographical scholars. Its violence in past times has made it historical. It lies on the East shore of the bay of Naples about ten miles East by Southeast of the city bearing the same name. The mountain stands 3,747 feet above the level of the sea, and to the ordinary imagination at all seasons fills the idea of the infernal regions—containing a lake of imperishable and unquenchable fire. It was Vesuvius that in an angry outburst hid forever the proud cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum, in a deep cover of melting masses, striking down the people in the pursuit of their avocations and encrusting houses and temples with a solid shell of almost impenetrable lava. The present outburst, according to all the reports we have thus far received, has been one of the most terrific ever recorded in the history of the awful mound of fire.

THE Macon (Ga.) Union is a journal edited with considerable ability, but we think that it takes needless alarm from the fact that a new military spirit is awaking in the Southern States, and that volunteer organizations are being organized by the "boys in gray" in nearly all the prominent cities and towns that were conspicuous for treason and disloyalty during the late war. It meets trouble half-way when it asserts that "there is no doubt but that the chief of the invisible empire is in correspondence with parties in England as to the probabilities of a war with that power. A war with England on the Alabama question would be the signal for another rebellion, and the indications that preparations are being made for such a contingency are numerous and unmistakable."

Such a deduction is ungenerously drawn. It might as well be asserted that the military spirit in the North or loyal States, in which already hundreds of volunteer regiments have been formed, means that there is some ground for the idea that a rebellion in the South will again occur and that they will have to again buckle on the armor of war to fight once more for supremacy with their Southern fellow citizens. The journal quoted from has much better opportunity perhaps to judge of the tone and temper of the ex-rebels than any of its Northern cotemporaries, but we should demand more proof than it affords for the assertion that the ex-confederates meditate any such contemptible desire to join hands with the military of England, to work out their vengenance on the Government that once conquered them, but which has proved so generous to forget and forgive their transgressions. While they were disloyal to the Government, it is very improbable that they could prove so utterly base as to aid a foreign power if a war for national supremacy ensues over the Alabama claims with England.

Not taking any stock in the belief that the Southern people are actuated by any especial desire to renew hostilities, yet we fully agree with our exchange when it says that the "Confederate gray is flaunted in the face of the Government; and loyal people who come among us to prospect and settle, are thus frightened at the slumbering spirit of rebellion, and the great West receives them into her lap. The only organizations we have that approach the militray are the police of the various cities, and they are made the sign-boards of rebellion, by being arrayed in the most approved gray. The flag of the country is repudiated, and did the old companies reorganize, they would spurn as a thing of poison the national ensign. We trust that no arms will be furnished any companies without exacting that if it carrry on all occasions the flag of the Union."

THE PRISON CONGRESS.

The action of the British Government in the matter of the International Prison Congress was not such as was expected, nor favorable to the belief that English statesmen are heartily enlisted in the proposed reforms in the prison discipline. That the American Prison Reform Association has been instrumental in effecting much toward the removal of great wrongs and crimes imposed on the convicts, none will deny. That this reform has at last extended beyond our limits, and now threatens to overturn the prison system of England is also true, and can it be possible that this is an excuse for England's statesmen to withhold from these philanthropic efforts their countenance and assistance. The Marquis of Landsdowne, the Junior Lord of the Treasury, replied to such an application that the government had concluded to refuse funds in assistance of the movement, because it would furnish a bad precedent. England shuts her eyes to the fact, which the whole world well knows her prison system and that of the world besides are defective, tyrannical and unbecoming this enlightened Christian age, and refuses to assist in the promotion of measures which are designed to ameliorate the condition of the unfortunate convicts, and change the inhuman system prevailing in our prisons. This is strange news from over the ocean, and is wholly unaccountable. That the action of Government will be reversed, we cannot but believe. The appropriation asked for was insignificant; the International Reform Congress is called to meet in London in July next; no nation is more deeply interested in the matter than Great Britain, and yet in these facts her statesmen fail to see a sufficient reason for tearing to tatters the red-tape which binds them, and devoting a small share of her resources to the purposes of this great philanthropic enterprise. Let the Congress assemble, as it will assuredly do, the expenses will be met by those nations which appreciate the designs of the work.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

REDUCE THE FARES.—The authorities of Philadelphia have taken in hand the matter of reduction in fares on the street railways, and the Philadelphian, in a few weeks probably, may enjoy a trip over any of the lines for five cents. Isn't it about time that this reduction was adopted in Pittsburgh? Our street railway companies could easily afford to come back to old prices and yet pay handsome dividends to stockholders. They have generally reduced the wages paid to employees, and all their running expenses are less than when the six cent tariff was inaugurated. Business too is brisk with them; one of the lines which two years ago found ten cars ample, now has thirteen, and in a short time will have sixteen—nearly doubling its capacity. The workingmen and people of small means, who are not desirous of being compelled to buy tickets by wholesale, all say "Down with the fares."

OUR CANADIAN NEIGHBORS.—Lord Duffering succeeds Lord Lisgar as Governor General of Canada, and our friends across the border are endeavoring to manufacture a little enthusiasm for the reception of "My Lord and Lady." But somehow the people won't enthuse to any cheerful extent and they are bothering the Home Government with questions as to its future policy toward Canada. And the Home Government—through its journals answers by assuring the Canadians that Lord Dufferin is a nice young man, that he is an "accomplished and amiable nobleman" and that he will, in fact do right under the circumstances,—which may be soothing but is not very clear. Meanwhile the Democratic influence is being felt surely in Canada, notwithstanding the almost savage assertions of loyalty which at stated intervals find went through the columns of a few Canadian journals.

Americans will be pleased to know that Lord Dufferin has always been a friend to, and admirer of American institutions. Through him Canada may learn, practically a little more of them.

JOURNALISM.—Mr. Whitelaw Reid, of the Tribune, who ought to know better, has been talking of "schools of journalism," for which he receives a sharp rap from the St. Louis Democrat which says as truly, as it is forcible: A journalist must be both born and made; that is to say, he must have the natural faculty or adaptibility for the work, and he must also undergo a very wearisome amount of training, application and drudgery, without which the details of the business will never be practically known to him. As for 'schools of journalism,' all talk of them is mere nonsense. West Point never made a general; but it has made some very good second lieutenants, who, by a combination of genius and opportunity, afterward became generals; and so no school of journalism can do more than make a reporter, who may or may not make a journalist in time."

INTERESTING TO IMPORTERS.—Those who are interested in the direct importation of goods from Europe to the West will hail with pleasure the advent of a new order of things whereby many of the commissions, the inconveniences and the delays, of which the importer is now a victim are to be done away with. By a new system which after two years of experimenting has been adopted by the Erie Railway Company—the western merchant may now order his goods direct from the manufacturer in Europe and receive a through bill of landing from any point in Great Britain or Ireland, the continent of Europe and the Mediterannean Ports, to any point in the interior of our country,—the expenses being thus materially lessened, as well as many risks in shipping being avoided.

"DECORATION DAY."—The Executive Committee of the G. A. R. local associations here, have acted wisely in resolving to have no parade, orations and general hilarity on Decoration Day. Now that the Monument is completed, there is really no necessity for a procession with all its exciting accompaniments, and it seems much more in accord with the spirit of the time, to gather in quiet reverence around the sepulchers of the martyred braves, and while the odor of the fresh flowers fills the air, to spend a few moments in grateful remembrance of their heroic sacrifice, and in learning to more highly prize those blessings, which by their lives, they sealed for us. These are the lessons of Decoration Day.

TURKEY'S FINANCES.—The Annual Budget for 1872, in Turkey, shows that hapless government to be in an uncomfortable financial condition—just $3,300,000 in arrears, and no perceptible source of revenue to make up the deficiency. The Sultan it is said intends to try a new tobacco excise to raise the money, and as the men and women of Turkey universally are devotees to the weed, he hopes thus to make the deficiency end in smoke.

THE CENTENNIAL.—We have four years to wait, and yet already Philadelphia is beginning to exhibit signs of the young American spirit which is to find vent in our Centennial celebration in 1876. The Executive Committee, has prepared an elaborate plan for the commemoration and the responses are generally favorable from all parts of the land. Why shouldn't it be the nation's greatest jubilee?

West Virginia Constitutional Convention—Color Qualification for Office.

We take the following eloquent extracts from the speech of Prof. Pendleton, President of Bethany College, delivered in the West Virginia Constitutional Convention, in favor of conferring the right to hold office on the colored race:

But this unequal discrimination against a class or a race, in whom, in proportion to their numbers, we acknowledge the powers of government to reside, and who have the right of exercising that power through the ballot box, cannot fail to perpetuate a feeling of bitter and relentless hostility against the party that inflicts it. No matter what may be the wisdom of your policy—no matter how just and beneficent your party platform may be—the feeling of resentment against a race brand a mark of infamy, which is put upon the white man for nothing less than felony, will outweigh every other consideration, embitter every other feeling, and fix and consolidate against you at once and forever, the entire negro vote of the State. You will know it and feel it in advance, and can have neither heart nor hope to ask or to work for their suffrage in political canvass. Sir, I ask gentlemen to pause and consider well, before they throw down this apple of discord, that may—aye, sir, that must be the source of perpetual and ever recurring strife all over the State. The spirit of our free institutions moves every heart with a sentiment against it,—the dictates of sound policy pronounce it unwise,—and the experience of the future with fill us with incurable regret, that we have fixed it in the Constitution beyond the power of repeal. Sir, let it not be too hastily assumed, that this vote is already fixed beyond the hope of change. Avoid this fatal step, and you leave the negro free to obey the influences, that truth and justice and wise measures must ever exert upon all men, and open to the approaches and arguments of all parties alike. He will soon take his place, not as a politically branded negro, but as a free voter,—and cast his ballot for the man or the party, that deserves his confidence, and proves to be his friend. It will make him a better citizen, relieve the body politic of a discordant element, hostile to its welfare, and educe from partial evil, universal good.

Mr. President, I had proposed to myself in considering this question, to introduce, in this connection, some thoughts, as to what I conceive to be the relations, which the States ought to recognize towards the negro, in consequence of the results brought about by the recent war; but this has been so well and ably done by the gentleman from Kanawha (Mr. Fitzhugh), who has preceeded me, that I will not detain the house with further discussion of the subject. Allow me, however, briefly to add, that war legislates, as well as Constitutions and Congresses, settles principles and announces judgments, as authortative and binding as any that can emanate from Bills of Rights, or decisions of courts, or the stipulations of treaties. A great philosopher has called decisive battles "the signal promulgations of the judgments of God." When nations disagree—when the stipulations of treaties are disregarded—or their interpretation is uncertain—the appeal is to arms, at the sword at last settles the controversy. So, when the States differed in their interpretation of the common Constitution, over their reserved sovereignty, it was claimed, there was no final tribunal to which the controversy could be authoritatively referred, and what was left but the appeal to arms? It was fearlessly made, and conducted with a gallantry that knows no parallel. The decision came. It was hardly won and grandly lost. What was the decision? It was that the negro must be free, an edict not of the Lincoln proclamation, but of the surrender of Lee. When this was done, all else followed as legitimate consequence by the logical operation of the fundamental principles upon which our whole fabric of government is built. Amendments to the Constitution were simply the entering up the verdict, the adjustment of the instrument to the decree. The moment the negro was free by irresistible inference he was a citizen, and as a citizen a voter, and as a voter eligible to anything his vote could confer—eligible to office. Not to see this is to overlook the source in which all the powers of government reside; not to admit this is to place ourselves in antagonism to the irresistible genius of our free institutions. This is the argument. I submit the application to the intelligence and the patriotism of the Convention.

THE SEWING MACHINE.

A strange vibration from the cottage window
My vagrant steps delayed,
And half abstracted, like an ancient Hindoo,
I paused beneath the shade.

What is, I said, this unremitting humming,
Louder than bees in spring?
As unto prayer the murmurous answer coming,
Shed from Sandalphon's wing.

Is it the sound of unimpeded labor,
That now usurpeth play?
Our harsher substitute for pipe and tabor,
Cittern and virelay?

Or, is it yearning for a higher vision,
By spiritual hearing heard?
Nearer I drew, to listen with precision,
Detecting not a word.

Then peeping through the pane, as men of sin do,
Myself the while unseen,
I marked a maiden seated by the window,
Sewing with a machine.

Her gentle foot propelled the tireless treadle,
Her gentle hand the seam;
My fancy said, it were a bliss to peddle
Those shirts, as in a dream!

Her lovely fingers lent to yoke and collar
Some imperceptible taste;
The rural swain, who buys it for a dollar,
By beauty is embraced.

O fairer aspect of the common mission!
Only the Poet sees
The true significance, the high position
Of such small things as these.

Not now doth Toil, a brutal Boanerges,
Deform the maiden's hand;
Her implement its soft sonata merges
In songs of sea and land.

And thus the hum of the unspooling cotton,
Blent with her rhythmic tread,
And shall be heard, when the virelays are forgotten,
And troubadours are dead.

HEART DISEASE.
A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER.

I came to Dr. Keyser early in December last with a broken constitution and general impaired health. I had pains about my heart and tightness across the chest, and my suffering was truly great, and I found my health fast wearing away. I had every appearance and every feeling of disease of the heart. Every one who saw me could easily tell how sick I was by my sallow look and emaciated form. I could not perform the slightest labor without the greatest exertion, which always produced extreme physical prostration and palpitation and pain about the heart. I have now taken medicine from Dr. Keyser for nearly four months, and I feel as vigorous as ever in my life—in fact, feel my health better than before I commenced treatment.

I have given permission to Dr. Keyser to publish these facts with reference to my cure in the hope that other sufferers may be benefitted by his treatment.

PHILIP ZIMMERMAN,

INFECTION IN THE AIR.

At this season the vegetable world takes a new lease of life; but to the sensitive and delicate members of the human family it is a time of danger and often of great suffering. The moisture which rises from the earth and hangs suspended over it in the form of morning and evening mists and fogs, holds in solution, so to speak, the mephitic elements which produce fever and ague, remittent fevers, rheumatism, and many painful nervous disturbances, and which aggravate dyspepsia, biliousness and all minor affections of the stomach and the bowels. This, therefore, is a critical period of the year, a season when the renovating, refreshing and purifying operation of the mightiest of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is salvation to the weak, and the best security for the continuance of the health and vigor of the strong. Now is the time not only to protect the system against the common ailments of the season, but to prevent the disorders incident to a warmer temperature. Let not the exhausting heats of the summer months find you unprepared to meet them. A course of Hostetter's Bitters, commenced now, will put all the physical energies in fighting trim, double the capacity of the internal organs to repel the causes of disease, refresh the brain and clear it of all hypochondriacal cobwebs, and place the whole physique in an attitude of defence, with every available point fortified and guarded, and as nearly invulnerable to unwholesome influences as it is possible for the human structure to be.

ST. LOUIS MAGNETIC SPRING WATER.
50 cases just received at
JAS. E. BURNS & CO'S DRUG STORE,
Corner Penn and Sixth (old St. Clair) streets.

St. Louis Magnetic Spring, discovered 1869, St. Louis, Gratiot county, Michigan. This most wonderful spring is attracting, from its novelty and peculiarities, the attention of the world. During the summer of 1869, while the Company were boring for salt, a vein of water was struck, flowing with such force as to throw the stream several feet above the surface. It was found to carry a powerful current of Electricity or Magnetism, which marks it as one of the most wonderful of nature's curiosities. The water has been proved to possess most remarkable curative properties, being particularly effective in cases of rheumatism, paralysis, gravel, kidney complaints, dyspepsia and nervous diseases.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, April 27, 1872.

The past week closed with an easy money market; the banks have an abundance of means to absorb all first-class paper their customers have to bring them. Outside paper is negotiated by the brokers with much less difficulty than was experienced at the commencement of the month. The April settlements being pretty much over, a season of ease is now looked for, and capitalists are taking considerable pains to see when and how they can most profitably and securely invest their funds for the ensuing coming months.

The trade of our city this month has been immense; the coal and iron shipped from this port by rail and river, far exceeds that of any other month in the history of our city, and the returns for these articles, which are now commencing to come in, will prove substantially beneficial to all classes of our citizens. The oil trade, which for sometime back has been very flat, it is thought will now improve, and before the warm weather sets in, become both lively and remunerative.

In local stocks there is but litte doing—94½ is offered for Allegheny Valley R. R. 7-30 bonds, but no sales reported. Bank stocks are inquired after, but holders show no desire to sell. Gold opened Saturday at 113 and closed at 112¾.

In Philadelphia money rules easier and first class three months commercial paper is readily negotiated at 7 and 8 per cent. Many of our eastern exchanges express the opinion that the large volume of importations that we are now receiving will cause gold to continue to advance. It might be well for bankers and merchants to give this matter attention.

NEW YORK, April 27, 1872.

Gold dull and heavy, closing at 112¾. Loans from 2 to 3½ per cent. for carrying. Clearances $66,000,000. Exports for the week, $1,715,000. Governments closed up quiet, with a general reaction in prices from the highest point. Stocks opened firm, with New York Central as the feature. On the first call Rock Island and Indiana Central were cards, the latter advancing to 39¼. The short interest in C. C. & I. C. is said to exceed the capital stock. The market closed strong, and especially for Rock Island, Union Pacific and Ohios. The Express says the Lake Shore election takes place on Wednesday next, and leading directors will leave for the West on Monday morning. The Northwestern transfer books will close on Tuesday next, and the election takes place on June 6. The control of the company will remain in the hands of the Tracy party, and the Lake Shore road will continue under Clark's management. The Rock Island election takes place in June, and the Tracy party will remain in power.

GRAIN—The markets for grain of all kinds are firmer, and the demand is increasing. Wheat is scarce and in active request, and we advance our quotations for red to $1,75@1,78, and white 3 to 5cts more. Spring Wheat is also held at an advance, in consequence of the West, our source of supply. Oats, in more active demand and firmer, though not quotably higher; 50@52 cts for mixed to prime white. LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY, April 27, 1872.

RECEIPTS.

The receipts of stock at these yards during the week ending to-day were as follows:

Cattle	335 cars.
Hogs	170 "
Sheep	108 "
Horses	35 "
Mules	12 "
Total	660 "

CATTLE.

Trade has been active all week and the market closes steady though prices are unchanged; the receipts, as will be seen, fall considerably below those of last week, but from all that we could learn the falling off was mostly of through stock. As noted in our report of Wednesday, there was a very good attendance of buyers, both New York and Philadelphia being well represented, and, furthermore, they all pitched in and bought liberally, and that too at full prices. Prime 1,400 to 1,500 steers, sold at 7 to 7½, and good 1,200 to 1,300 averages may be quoted at 5 to 7½. There is a continued good demand for stock cattle and the offerings of this particular kind continue light; selling readily at 4½@5 cts, and anything extra would bring 5¼.

The prospects for the coming week are not regarded with much favor; the warm weather together with liberal shipments from the west it is thought will cause a reaction in the east; the shipments from this point alone for Comunipaw, since and including Thursday, foot up something like 130 cars, about one half of which were owned by Mooris, of Chicago, and the other half by Hunter, Goldsmith and others.

SHEEP.

There has been quite a reaction in the sheep market within the past forty-eight hours, in consequence of the very unfavorable advices from New York, and while the bulk of the supply in this market brought high prices, the indications are that trade will be hard next week, and we do not believe to-day, that Tuesday's or Wednesday's prices could have been realized by half a cent per lb. It is very generally expected that the arrivals next week will be heavy, as the weather for some days past has been very favorable for shearing, and it is believed that those who contemplate selling will do so at once, as they are anxious to realize before the market breaks, and this, as already intimated, is the main reason why heavy arrivals and a bad market are anticipated next week. The offerings of clipped sheep this week were much larger than any preceding week this season, and hereafter the arrivals of "wooled" sheep will be light; eastern buyers are giving the former the preference.

Following embraces the bulk of the sales since the date of our last report:

HOGS.

Trade has been fair this week although the market has ruled quiet and there has been but little change in prices. The best Philadelphia hogs sold on Wednesday and from up until Friday at 5 to 5,10, but to-day this grade of hogs cannot be quoted above 4.90 to 5. Yorkers steady but unchanged; 4,25 to 4,50. However, there were but few in the pens unsold to-day, and this may be regarded as a good indication in favor of sellers next week, though if the weather should continue warm no advance in prices is likely.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, April 27, 1872.

Trade in petroleum has been very quiet during the past week but the market closes stronger, in consequence mainly of the advance in gold. Refined, as compared with yesterday, is a quarter of a cent higher, with considerable inquiry, particularly for near deliveries, but even at the advance there are no sellers in this market. It is claimed, and with good cause, too, that there is no margin at present prices, and the inference is that there will be a further advance. April quoted to-day at 21⅞@22; May, 22@22½; and June 22¼@22¾. There are quite a number of vessels reported chartered at Philadelphia, and as the receipts of oil there are small, stocks very much reduced; this, too, is not without its effect in stimulating the market and stiffening prices. Crude also, is firmer, and a shade higher; sales early in the day at $3,45, and subsequently at $3,48—quotations may be fairly given at $3,45@3,50.

Receipts crude this week, 21,824 barrels; last week, 21,508; January 1st to date, 292,946; same last year, 256,445. Exports refined this week, 8,202; last week, 5,195; January 1st to date, 153,096; same time last year, 150,740.

Iron Market.

NEW YORK.—The Shipping List of Saturday says: The market for Scotch Pig remains in about the same position as last noted. The stock is about exhausted, but there is little or no demand, and we are unable to give any reliable quotations—1,100 tons Eglington, at Philadelphia, was resold at about $50. American remains very quiet, and prices are barely maintained—we notice sales of 300 tons No. 1, and 150 do. No. 2 Lehigh, on private terms; we quote No. 1 $49@52, No. 2 $48@51, and Forge 46@48. Wrought Scrap is scarce and wanted, and prices continue in sellers' favor—200 tons No. 1 sold at a private price. New Rails continue in demand, and the price of English has advanced to $75@77 gold. American Rails are steady at $85 currency at Mill—the sales are 2,500 tons 56 ℔. English delivered at Galveston, at $76 gold; 2,000 do American, and 5,000 do, 56 ℔. English, on terms we did not learn. Refined Bar, &c, from store continues very strong at our quotations, with a fair business.

THE BRITISH IRON TRADE.—"So brisk is the demand on the Iron trade," says the London Telegraph of the 10th inst., "that, according to our market report, the Cleveland district has not, at the present moment, a single week's stock on hand. The demand for some descriptions—notably rails—is described as enormous."

PHILADELPHIA.—Pig iron is in fair demand at the advance. Sales of No. 1 foundry at $50@51; No. 2 at $48@50; Grey Forge at $47@48; Scotch pig at 48@49, and mottled at $46 ₩ ton. Old rails sells for shipment at $53@54 per ton, and nails at $5 65 per keg.

Wool Markets.

NEW YORK.—The market has been a little more active, but otherwise is without change. Domestic Fleece has received considerable attention, but the stock is very much reduced, and transactions have been confined to small parcels at prices favoring sellers; sales have been made in lots of 150,000 ℔s. Ohio and West Virginia during the past week, on private terms. Pulled Wool continues in good demand, and is steady. California and Texas are rather quiet but full rates are maintained. The inquiry for Foreign has been moderate, but the supply is not large, and prices remain steady.

PHILADELPHIA.—There is rather more doing but prices favor buyers. The sales include Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, super Saxony fleece, 83@85c; full bood merino fleece, 83@86c; three-quarter blood merino fleece, 82@85c; common fleece, 75@80c. Tub-washed, choice selected; three-eighth grade, 90@91c; well-washed, 85@88c; fair ordinary, 80@83; low or burry, 68@80c. Domestic pulled, city merino, 78@80c; city super, 78@83; western, 70@75. California, fine, fall clip, 40@45; burry, fall clip, 30@35. Colorado and New Mexican, fine and medium, choice selected, 49@55; fine and medium, washed, 45@52; common washed, 43@45; black, 35@37; unwashed, 35@42. Texas, fine selected, free from burrs, 43@47; medium selected, free from burrs, 42@47; low, 38@40.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary yesterday with scant five feet in the channel. There was some rain on Saturday night but not enough to have any influence on the river; however, the indications were favorable for more, as the weather in the afternoon was warm and cloudy.

The West Virginia departed for Morgantown on Saturday evening and the Comet left for St. Louis on Sunday morning.

Thereare several boats due, some of which will doubtless be found in port this merning.

The Murrillo is announced for New Orleans forthwith. She is a bran new boat—not yet entirely completed.

Business continues dul at the landing and furthermore there is but litte prospect of any improvement,

The Mary Davage for St. Louis and the Wild Duck for Pittsburgh left Cincinnati on Friday. The Wild Cat and W H Brown were at Cairo the same day.

The Exporter arrived at New Orleans on Thursday and the Ajax passed Vicksburgh the same day.

The Brill left Nashville for Pittsburgh on Saturday.

The Bellevernon, Jennie Howell and Lucy Bertram left Cincinnati for this port during Thursday night and Friday.

J. Sharp, McDonald, ond James Lowry, coal merchants, left Cincinnati for home on Friday.

Following named towboats were in port on Saturday: Coal Valley, Greyhound, John Dippold, Stella, Tom Dodsworth, Whale, Diamond, Baltic, Leopard, Fred. Wilson No. 2, Tom Rees No 2, Panther, Resolute, Grand Lake No 1, V F Wilson, Storm, Hercules, Lion, Sam Brown, Eagle, Coal Bluff, Hornet No. 2, and Bengal Tiger.

The McMillin patent was again before His Honor Judge McKennan, Saturday morning. On a motion for a preliminary injunction, suit was brought by the owners of the patent against J. J. Adams, et al., owners of the towboat Wild Duck. After argument by counsel, the Judge allowed the injunction, restraining the defendants from further infringement of the McMillin patent, the injunction to be dissolved on payment to plaintiffs of the regular license fee, which in this case is understood to be $150. Counsel for defendants stated in court that the license fee would be paid. W. Bakewell and G. H Christy for plaintiffs, and M. W Acheson for defendants.

—The Nashville Banner says: Captain Jack Martin, the oldest steamboatman in this section of country, died at his residence in South Nashville, yester day, aged eighty years, after having spent half a century in navigating the Cumberland. During the early part of his life he served in the English and American navies. He brought around to Nashville the first keel-boat of salt from the Kanawha River—before the days of steam navigation. As pilot and captain he stood high among his cotemporaries, having commanded two or three boats with ability and success. He had not been upon the river from 1861 to the time of his death.

—An Arkansas exchange says the people of Van Buren and Fort Smith discarded the use of water as a beverage or a purifier long ago, and now drink nothing but "whisky sandwiches;" otherwise navigation in the Arkansas would have been suspended long ago.

—A St. Louis dispatch under date of Thursday says - The Fearless, Iron Mountain and four M. S Brown's barges leave the ore pile, in the morning for the Ohio, taking about 3,000 tons of ore.

—Captain Alfred Stein has been presented with a handsome silver coffee urn by the party of excursionists that went round on the John Kilgour last trip, in appreciation of his attention and courtesy.

—The steamer City of Vicksburg was the first boat of the St. Louis, Memphis & Vicksburg packet-line to hoist the "anchor" between her chimneys. This line will hereafter be known as the Anchor Line.

—The S. S. Merrill went through Lake Pepin last Monday and opened navigation to St. Paul.

STEAM CAPSTAN PATENT.—PARTIES who have used or are now using STEAM POWER CAPSTANS, in infringment of the M'MILLIN PATENT, are hereby notified to take out license, or they will be proceeded against by suit in the United States Circuit Court. The validity of the patent and the right of the owners of the patent to an injunction, having been fully affirmed and established, parties will save themselves expense and trouble by settling promptly. The undersigned may be found at his office with England Bindley, 263 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Licenses will be granted on reasonable terms.

HOME NEWS.

For Rent.—A large room on second floor of GAZETTE building, corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street. This room is a very desirable one for an office. For terms, &c., apply at the GAZETTE Counting Room.

Waived a Hearing.—William H. Davis, charged with feloniously cutting Wm. Arbogast on Monday evening last, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Market alley, on Saturday waived a hearing and gave bail for Court. Young Arbogast is rapidly recovering from the effect of his wound.

For Cincinnati.—The following named gentlemen passed through the City yesterday, taking dinner at the Union Hotel, Governor; Fenton, New York; E. A. Merritt, New York; S. J. Bowen, Washington, D C; J. J. Bright, Washington, D. C; Frank Leslie, New York; W. P. Tisdel, Washington, D. C., and other prominent politiceans who did not register their names.

Disappeared.

On Thursday, the 25th inst., Wm. Dean, son of Wm. Dean, 246 Federal street, Allegheny, disappeared, and has not since been heard of. He is twenty-three years of age, dressed in blue pants, black and white twist coat, grey vest and black felt hat; is of weak intellect, being subject to epileptic fits. Any information of him will be gratefully received by his parents.

A Fallen Roof.

The stables of the Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway, situated between Taggart street and Brighton road, are reported to be in a very bad condition. The roof of that part fronting on Taggart street fell in yesterday, and the walls have to be braced up to prevent their falling. The stables were built last fall at an expense of about twenty-five thousand dollars, with room for two hundred horses. The cause of the giving way of the building is not known, though the heavy rain which fell on Saturday night is supposed to have washed the foundation so as to cause the building to settle. No blame is attached to the contractors, though it is said the walls are made but nine inches thick.

Reckless Shooting.

Persons living in the vicinity of Frankstown have recently been very much annoyed, at times, by parties firing rifle shots across the river from the vicinity of Four Mile Run, just above Brownstown. It appears that a party of men are in the habit of going out to the river side to shoot at a mark, in the evening, after their day's work is done. On Saturday evening a ball from the south side of the river came whizzing across, and struck some object a few feet from where a little girl was standing at the time. An officer on duty in the vicinity picked up the piece of lead, which proved to be a rifle ball. The authorities on the South Side should see to it that a stop be put to such recklessness, if it lays in their power so to do.

Mercy Hospital Free Clinics.

In addition to the incalculable amount of good which is being done through this worthy institution—Mercy Hospital—to the poor and needy afflicted ones in our community, its medical board, assisted by several others of our prominent physicians, have decided upon a course of daily clinics, which will be of great value to medical students as well as to many who are already practicing the profession. These clinics will be inaugurated on Wednesday, May 1st, investigations to begin at nine o'clock, A. M., of each day. The order for the week will be as follows: Monday, general medical treatment; Tuesday, diseases of women and children; Wednesday, surgical treatment,—and beginning on Thursday, the same order will be gone through again during the remainder of the week.

Fast Driving on Penn Avenue.

The usual amount of Sunday fast driving was indulged in yesterday on Penn avenue. Some six or eight arrests were made of the parties indulging in the unlawful sport, by the police stationed along the avenue. In the afternoon, a young man giving his name as Walker, was testing the speed of his animal, when an officer called upon him to halt, a command which, instead of having the desired effect, seemed but to stimulate the fellow to greater endeavors to get over the ground as fast as possible. The officer hailed the next buggy that came along, jumped in and followed the lively youth and fast horse to Point Breeze, where they was taken into custody. Walker was placed in the Central Station-house, and the horse and buggy in Stewart & Patterson's livery stable, to await a claimant.

Attempted Burglary.

Yesterday morning about two o'clock an attempt was made to enter the hardware store of James Bown, on Wood street. The attempt was made from the rear, the party sawing out a portion of one of the windows. A square of four lights having been almost detached, it seems to have broken to pieces, probably as the would-be burglar was about to take it from its place; and the broken glass making considerable noise, the fellow took fright and ran away. A man in an adjoining house being startled by the noise, jumped up and fired a pistol shot from his window, but the aim was not a good one, and the fellow escaped. An officer on duty on Grant street, just about the time of the occurrence, noticed a man run out of Virgin alley and down Grant street, but not knowing of the burglarious attempt, made no effort to stop him.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Messrs. Ellsler & Gotthold, with that enterprise that has always characterized them in the management of their theatre, announce this week especial attractions in the brilliant romance, "The Necromancer of Egypt." For the production of this play the management have secured some of the most talented artists from Niblo's Garden, New York; and the play, combined with their new and beautiful scenery, will doubtless attract crowded houses during the entire week. No advance in prices.

ART GALLERY.—We could suggest no more attractive and pleasant place to spend an hour than in the Art Gallery. One might gaze at its tastefully hung walls and almost imagine himself in some fairy land, surrounded by the most beautiful scenery. Every one should visit the Gallery before it closes for the season.

Y. M. C. A.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last Saturday evening in their room. The reports of the various committees were read, after which a committee of three was appointed to select delegates to represent the Association at the International Convention to be held in Lowell, Mass., in June. A short time was spent in the discussion of the subject, "Use of the Room on the Sabbath day," in which the fact was developed that throwing open the room on the Sabbath has been of benefit to the Association and the public. The rooms are open every Sabbath afternoon from one to six o'clock, during which the religious portion of their library only is used, but which in the opinion of most of those taking part in the discussion is sufficient to meet the demands for reading on the Sabbath.

During the meeting several pieces of music were sung by the choir of the First Presbyterian Church, Allegheny.

Sunday School Anniversary.

The sixth anniversary of the Hazlewood Presbyterian sabbath school was held yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. Addresses were made by the Revs. Alex. Clark and S. C. Faris, Dr. McCandless, Prof. Lucas, of Bethany College, W. O. Hughart, Esq., and Rev. J. S. Stuchell, pastor. The Rev. Wilcox, of Hazlewood Christian Chapel, made the opening prayer, and the exercises were interspersed with singing by the children. The report of the Secretary showed the school to be in an exceedingly prosperous condition, every branch of the work being pushed with great earnestness and efficiency. The school was started six years ago with forty scholars, and at present has an enrollment of one hundred and seventy five. In addition to this increase, out of this school have sprung a flourishing congregation (the Presbyterian) and the Hazlewood Christian Chapel and Sunday school. The Disbursing Committee reported $50 each given to the Home and City Missions during the year.

Another Bigamy Case.

On last Wednesday a lady from North Adams arrived in Oil City with her daughter, in search of the husband and father, who, they said, had left them at their home in Massachusetts, telling them he was going west to better his fortune. For seven long years she had received no intelligence from him directly, though a short time ago she heard something that had led her to believe him to be in the oil regions. She then started upon this information, determined to find the truant husband and compel him to recognize his former vows. Upon arriving at Oil City she found the faithful (?) husband married to a young lady of twenty, and very comfortably fixed. The meeting was not marked by such an outburst of affection as should have characterized a meeting of husband and wife who had been separated for seven years. They merely went through the formalities of hand shaking; but the daughter even refused to recognize her truant parent. This young lady said she had not forgotten the many hardships that she and her mother had endured while attempting to support themselves and half a dozen children.

The matter was finally arranged and a satisfactory compromise secured by the husband paying to his first wife the sum of two hundred dollars, cash, and agreeing to pay her two thousand in monthly instalments. We should say that she ought to consider herself fortunate in getting rid of a worthless husband at so good a price.

THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.

When Applications for Licenses are to be Made—Important Decision.

The new liquor law, it will be borne in mind by those to whom it may concern, will go into effect on Wednesday of this week. In the Court of Quarter Sessions, on Saturday, Judges Sterrett and Stowe gave a construction of the provisions of the new law, which will be of no little importance to liquor dealers. W. D. Moore, Esq., presented a petition on behalf of a number of dealers, who intend applying for license, requesting the Court to give a construction of the clause, referring to the time for making application. The opinion of the Court was that applications must be made on or before Thursday, of this week, May 2d, and that those who fail in making applications and furnishing the requisite bond by that time, will not have another opportunity until the 1st of August. On Thursday next the Court will hold a session for the purpose of attending to any applications which may be made at that time, and approving the accompanying bonds and sureties.

A GENTLEMAN (?) who had evidently imbibed to about the extent of his capacity, drove down Federal street yesterday afternoon at a gait that might have proved fatal to an arm had not the instinct of the brute proved of more service than the reason of the man, and guided his buggy safely through the crowd of vehicles.

D. L. SMITH, of Allegheny, was visited on Saturday by a delegation of coopers, who desired him to announce himself as candidate for the Legislature. He replied that no inducement short of a guarantee for the successive terms would induce him to consent, as one term would prove very injurious to his business.

THOSE persons who were willing a week since to wager almost anything that the old alarm bell would not be raised to the top of Municipal Hall, but that its removal from the old tower in the court house yard was merely a feint to bring somebody to somebody else's terms, have made themselves remarkably scarce since Friday.

IT IS RUMORED that the Pennsalvania Railroad company has bought one hundred and forty-five acres of land at Bretions Station, about twelve miles from the city, for the purpose transporting the Stock yards now located at East Liberty. The price paid was one thousand dollars per aere.

WE cannot too strongly urge upon the authorities the necessity of thoroughly cleansing the city before the very warm weather sets in. The streets, both of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, are said to be in a very dirty and unhealthy condition, and proper measures should be taken at once to remedy the existing evil. The cholera season is not far distant, and a little attention now may do a great deal in checking the disease, or even prevent it altogether.

Another burglar who entered the house of Mr. A. Wilson, on Craig street, was less fortunate. In looking through the room with a dark lantern he awoke Mr. Wilson who pursued him down stairs. THE WEISE PERSECUTION.

Hearing in the Case of Peter Weise, Charged With the Murder of His Wife—The Prosecution Fails in Making a Case.

Two weeks age last Friday night, it will be remembered, Mrs. Weise, the wife of Peter Weise, a butcher residing at East Liberty, was found in her own house with two severe gashes on her neck, and almost in a dying condition. The particulars of the case are still fresh in the minds of our readers, and it is unnecessary to reproduce them. It appears that the woman had been partially paralyzed some time before the occurrence, and at that time was partially deranged. She seemed to have become weary of life, imagining that she was a burden to others as well as to herself, and conceiving that her friends did not care for, and was anxious to be rid of her. When visited by Deputy Mayor Phillips, and asked who had cut her, she wrote on a slate, in reply "Peter Weise," but subsequently, when she appeared more rational, made affidavit to the fact that she herself had committed the deed. This statement she reiterated, again and again, when interragated, upon the subject, and with her dying breath, to the minister who was attending to her spiritual wants, she told the same story. The determination to destroy herself had evidently taken complete possession of her, as she resisted with all her power the dressing of the injuries, and even tore off the bandages repeatedly from her neck when her hands were left free. The piteous and regretful demonstrations, too, made by the husband upon hearing that he was suspected of the great crime, as well as the affection displayed by the pair, the one for the other, during the time which elapsed between the inflicting of the fatal injury and the death of the woman, all indicated that there could be but little plausibility about the theory that the husband was the guilty party. However, the Deputy Mayor conceived it to be his duty to have the man arrested, but after a hearing of the case, there appearing to be no good grounds upon which to hold him for trial, he was discharged.

Subsequently an information was made before Mayor Blackmore, by Alfred Kirchgessner, charging Weise with murder. The man was re-arrested, and committed for a hearing which was set for last Monday. But, notwithstanding the seeming probability that there was but little if any ground upon which to hold the accused, when the appointed day for hearing rolled around, he was removed to jail, there to suffer the agony of suspense and doubt, added to that of the great bereavement which had so lately befallen him, for almost another week.

On Saturday last, however, the precious time of the attorneys and witnesses seemed to have been so unoccupied as to allow them to give a small portion of it to this trifling little affair, and Weise was again brought from his cell to the Mayor's office, and accorded a hearing.

Several witnesses were examined for the prosecution and defense; but there were no new developments in the case, the testimony agreeing with the facts set forth above and with those heretofore published: and there appearing to be no evidence that would justify the holding of Weise for trial, he was discharged.

THE COURTS.

Geo. Exler, of the Sixth ward, Allegheny, was next called up for sentence. He had entered pleas of guilty on two indictments for selling liquor to minors and a nolle pros. was allowed in seven other cases. He was required to pay the costs in all the cases. He was also sentenced to pay the costs in the assault and battery cases of the Commonwealth vs. Joshua Ross, et al., and Commonwealth vs. Henry Lang.

John Limegrover, indicted for selling liquors in Penn towdship in violation of the Act of April 9, 1870, was required to pay a fine of $50 and costs. A nolle pros. was entered on another charge upon payment of costs. Failing in procuring either the required fine or bail he was committed to jail.

Patrick Gilgallon indicted for surety of the peace and abandonment, on oath of Mary Gilgallon; had a hearing, and both cases were continued until the June term.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE STERRETT.

On petition of Geo. W. Garrison, John Slatterly, an insane person, was ordered to be sent to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital at Dixmont.

Application for charter of incorporation was made in each of the following cases: Allegheny County Butchers' Association; Liberty Building and Loan Association; Allemania Building and Loan Association of Pittsburgh. The usual preliminary orders were granted.

On application of George McKnight and Sarah McKnight, an order was granted permitting them to adopt the child, Minnie Florence Brown. The parties reside in East Liberty.

In our court reports of Saturday, two errors appeared, which we take occasion to correct. In the case of the Citizens' Oil Refining Company vs. W. J. Kountz, the verdict should have been $3,544.50, and in the case of Waring & King vs. Peter Hutchinson, the jury found for defendant, instead of plaintiff, as our report of Saturdy erroneously stated.

CONSECRATION.

A New and Beautiful Church Consecrated to the Worship of Almighty God.

On the 8th of April, 1871, St. Bridget's church, on Enoch street, in the Eleventh ward, was laid in ruins by fire. The ashes had hardly cooled until the congregation, with most commendable zeal and religious enterprise, at once set about to rear a new and more elegant edifice on the site. Depending on the liberality of his flock, the spirited and able pastor, Rev. Father James Tracy, even while the flames wrapped in their ruinous embrace the old temple of worship, which had cost him as much exertion to erect, predicted that phœnix-like the church would rise from its ashes before a year had passed away. He was not wrong in either his prediction or in reposing so much confidence in the generosity of his people. Funds were soon collected and the work of building was commenced under the auspices of a committee consisting of the following energetic gentlemen: Messrs. John Kearney, Michael Kirk, John Carr, John Kindlen, M. J. Farrell, Mark Campbell and John McKeefer. On Saturday the church was completed, and yesterday was consecrated to the worship of Almighty God by Right Rev. Bishop Domenec, who pronounced an eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion. The ceremonies were peculiarly grand. Rev. Father Watterson, assisted by a large number of priests and attendants, celebrated High Mass. The choir rendered in fine style the very choicest selections of Catholic music, while St. Bridget's Silver Cornet Band, one of the finest organizations in the city, discoursed most excellent music which added zest to the occasion.

The new edifice is built of brick with elaborate stone facings and trimmings, and occupies a lofty site almost overlooking the entire city. It cost in the neighborhood of $75,000, exclusive of the ground on which it stands. It is beautifully finished inside, being supplied with gorgeous stained windows, illustrative of scenes from the Bible, magnificent paintings and costly fresco and stucco work on the walls and ceilings. The nave, on either side of which are five marbleized solid columns, is forty-one feet high and seventy in depth. There are three altars, the principal or central of which is of exquisite design. A grand chandelier, brilliant with French cut glass pendants, depends from the centre, and while affording 160 brilliant jets, is by itself a beautiful decoration. All the pillars, and at intervals on the walls, are supplied with gas brackets so that the church at night-time is fairly flooded with light. The pews, capable of seating one thousand persons, and the entire wood-work in the inside, are of chestnut wood, varnished, looking neat and pretty. In point of beauty this new temple of worship in its interior is equal to any in the city, and reflects great credit to the congregation who have erected it. The whole work was under the superintendency of Mr. Mark Campbell; Barr & Moser were the archetects; J. & J. Kindlin did the stone work; John & James Carr, the brick work; J. Lloyd, the plastering; W. Stuelen the frisco work; Kirk & Kerr, and I. F. Clanley the painting; James Ricketts the gas fitting and J. Batchelder the carpenter work.

THE HEALTH CONSERVATORS.

Meeting on Saturday Afternoon.

At their room in Municipal Hall, the Board of Health held a semi-monthly meeting on Saturday afternoon.

A communication was received from the clerk of the Street committee calling the attention of the board to the condition of the drain or sewer on the property between Caldwell street and Fifth avenue, near Pride street, in the Eighth ward, and requesting that the matter might be investigated, and if within the jurisdiction of the Health committee, that the necessary means for abating the nuisance might be taken. Health-officer Gray was instructed to give the matter his attention and report to the board.

A bill from William McCallin, for $38, was presented and ordered to be paid.

On motion of Mr. Edwards, it was resolved that the Health officer be instructed to report a plan dividing the improved part of the city into divisions or blocks, for the purpose of carrying into effect the thirty-third and thirty-fourth sections of the health laws, providing for the removal of garbage and other offal in accordance with the said act.

The Health officer reported seven cases of small-pox in Mercy Hospital and one in the Passivant, with three deaths from the same disease in the last two weeks. With regard to the two small-pox patients sent by R. D. McGonnigle from Allegheny to Passivant Hospital, in this city, the matter was referred to the solicitor of the board, with instructions to see if he could make out a case, and report to the committee.

LARCENY IN OMAHA.

A Member of the Omaha Council Arrested in Pittsburgh.

Chief of Police Irwin, several days ago, received a letter from Charles H. Byne, Esq., of Omaha, Deputy Sheriff of Douglass county, enquiring of a man named John Metz, who was supposed to have come to this city. The matter was investigated by detectives Scott and Messner, who soon discovered that Metz was here trying to get employment as a bar-keeper. Deputy Sheriff Byne was informed of this, and on last Saturday morning arrived in this city, having obtained a warrant from Governor Geary. The officers mentioned went with Mr. Byne, and soon had Metz alias Adrian in the lock-up, waiting to be escorted to Omaha. It seems, from Mr. Byne's statement, that Metz was a member of the Omaha Council and a man of some prominence in that city, and taking advantage of this he possessed himself of four hundred dollars belonging to a poor girl, and with this money and five hundred dollars which he had obtained in his possession belonging to a German rifle company, he left the city. He was prosecuted on the alleged larceny, and on this charge he was arrested.
